Byron Dalrymple makes his living writing outdoor sports articles. His trailer gets the roughest travel imaginable—in the wilds and backwoods from coast-to-coast and border-to-border. One important feature that he likes about his aluminum Airstream is its lightness... makes for easy towing and maneuverability in the tight spots.

Michigan... Dalrymple and his Airstream camping in a forest on a fishing expedition. Aluminum is maintenance free, and strong; two of the many reasons he likes Airstream's unitized aluminum construction.

Florida... scouting for fishing spots. Dalrymple spends all his time in the outdoors—from arid desert to deluges in swampy country. He says, "I have no time to fix, clean or polish. Rain, alone, wash my aluminum Airstream and it still looks close to new". (That's because Airstream uses Reynolds Al clad steel—strong and corrosion resistant.)

made with light, strong, rustproof
REYNOLDS ALUMINUM
provide year 'round comfort and livability in every climate

Here's what the noted outdoor writer Byron Dalrymple says about his all-aluminum Airstream, "I've put 30,000 hard miles on this Airstream in 7 months and didn't hurt it a bit. It's been in every conceivable climate, from below zero to over a hundred... from downpours to the most arid areas in the United States, and on the roughest back-woods roads. One of the reasons for this trouble-free performance is that Airstream builds 'em with aluminum, inside and out. Aluminum construction allows the entire unit to give gently to every shock and spring back without damage. Aluminum is tough!"

Airstream Trailers, Inc., Jackson Center, Ohio and Los Angeles, California employs aircraft methods of construction using rivets and Reynolds Aluminum to achieve a lightweight, high strength vibration proof body. Strong structural aluminum alloys are used for both the inside wall and the outside "skin". Their load bearing property gives high strength with minimum weight. Aluminum is also used in the ribs, door frames, and window frames. Mr. Wally Byam, Chairman of Airstream Trailers, Inc., states, "Because we give a unique lifetime guarantee on every Airstream...we rely on Reynolds Aluminum for highest quality mill products and also for finest technical advice and service."

Travel trailers and mobile homes built with aluminum offer more living comfort—reflect sun's heat in the summer—hold warmth in winter. They're maintenance free, too. And, most important, aluminum trailers can never rust or rot. Even when protective coatings are applied to other metals, scratching or chipping can lead to rust. This can never happen to aluminum.

Airstream Literature

“Vacationing in a Trailer”, “Retirement Travel”, and “Week-ending in a Trailer” are the titles of three promotional folders issued by Airstream Trailers, Inc. All three pieces, attractively designed in distinguishing colors, are directed to the prospective travel trailer buyer and tell how much pleasure one of these units can be for the purposes they mention.

They are attractively illustrated and employ the use of photographs which will help to sell the prospect. Space is left on the back cover of each for dealer’s imprint if desired.

For copies write to Airstream Trailers, Inc., 1755 N. Main St., Los Angeles 31, Calif. or circle No. B-69 on the READER’S SERVICE CARD.
With so many travel trailers bought as "first" trailers, it's specially important that Warner has developed a new electric brake system to meet the requirements of these lighter, faster-moving mobile homes. The extra-smooth braking action and excellent controllability give the safety new operators need... and contribute to a good first impression of trailer travel. This new system is the latest of Warner's many contributions to America's thriving mobile home industry.

The double-safety feature is probably the biggest of these contributions. Your customer knows that with electric brakes on the trailer and hydraulic brakes on the car he's fully protected against total brake failure... safer than if he were driving the car by itself... because if one system fails the other still stops him easily. What's more, only electric actuation gives instant trailer brake response—firm, easy power-brake response—on every application, with no time lag while fluid pressure builds up. Perfect car-trailer brake synchronization is possible only with electric trailer brakes. Year after year, dependable Warner Brake Systems help keep your customers safe, satisfied, and sold!

Airstream Trailers Holds Sales Meeting In Ohio Factory

More than 50 eastern and midwestern Airstream dealers and their wives were in attendance recently at a three-day dealer meeting held at the Airstream factory in Jackson Center, Ohio. Wally Byam, lately from foreign shores to organize his "First American Caravan," was on hand to greet the dealers and to show his movies of European, Cuban, and Mexican caravans.

The sales meeting was organized under the direction of Charles Manchester, Airstream sales manager, and offered an opportunity to introduce the 1957 Airstream line and to check dealers out on new equipment and new features.

Manchester reports that the consensus of opinion among those participating in the three-day session was that the get-together introduced a new feeling in dealer-factory relations and provided an opportunity to pick up new sales ideas. In addition, he said, it offered dealers a chance to express constructive opinion on the product produced by Airstream.

Traveling Industry Ambassador

C. J. Stoll, president of C. J. Stoll, Inc., St. Petersburg, Florida, is currently on one of the most extensive tours ever undertaken by a member of the mobile home industry.

Stoll, who is president of the Mobilehome Dealers National Association, shows his belief in his business by traveling in an Airstream trailer which has taken him 16,227 miles since the first of the year. His constant traveling companions are his wife, “Coty,” and their small bull dog, “Lucky.”

States he has visited since January include, Michigan, New York, Iowa, Ohio, Indiana, Kansas, Texas, Nevada and California. All of his trips have either been in connection with his position as president of the national dealer organization or to represent his company at various manufacturer-dealer meetings.

“I find traveling by trailer the ideal way,” said Stoll, “because we do not have to pack suit cases every day, or worry about where we will stay that night. In addition, other than the extra gasoline required, we can stay away from home as cheaply as at home.”
SWANK — is the name for this luxurious setting at Newport Beach, Calif. as Tex Evans, San Antonio, Texas, tows his new Airstream Flying Cloud with a Thunderbird. This model will be on display at the Trailer Life Show.
