GENERAL COACH

We are General Coach, a division of Thor Industries Inc., a western Canadian company that manufactures the well known Corsair brand of quality recreational vehicles. For over 54 years we have been consumer established as builders of high value, superior quality RV’s with proven high resale value.

Because we are a limited capacity production company we do not mass produce our products allowing us to ensure strict quality control standards which, in turn, ensures your comfort and satisfaction. Residential quality components and residential style construction techniques are utilized by skilled, conscientious, long term employees dedicated to quality workmanship.

Corsair by General Coach is designed for recreational use in western Canadian climate and conditions with standard features second to none. Your peace of mind with your purchase decision is reinforced by Corsair’s Six-Year Limited Structural Integrity Warranty.
